Codutti is more than just an italian office furniture brand:
it's an icon of luxury, quality, and timeless design.

ABOUT US

The story of Codutti began in 1954, when three brothers joined forces in a modest village workshop. Since then, Codutti has built a legacy of quality and prestige, becoming a benchmark brand in the luxury furniture market. Attention to detail and product reliability led the company to provide the furnishings for two icons of the Italian fleet in the 1960s: the Raffaello and Michelangelo cruise ships. Over the years, Codutti has refined its passion for producing high-end furniture, specializing particularly in the office sector. In addition to traditional wooden offerings, the company has introduced meticulous craftsmanship in leather and hides, becoming a distinctive element of the brand. Today, Codutti's product range also includes a wide selection of operational furnishings, customizable with various materials.

MADE IN ITALY SINCE

1954

Founded in 1954, the company has become a benchmark in the office furniture sector, offering a comprehensive range of solutions ranging from managerial desks to meeting areas and common spaces. Each collection, which includes tables and desks, meeting tables, storage units, front desks, sofas, chairs, and accessories, is designed to meet the most specific needs of the clients. Thanks to in-house production, Codutti is able to customize each element, ensuring a unique and incomparable office experience.

1954

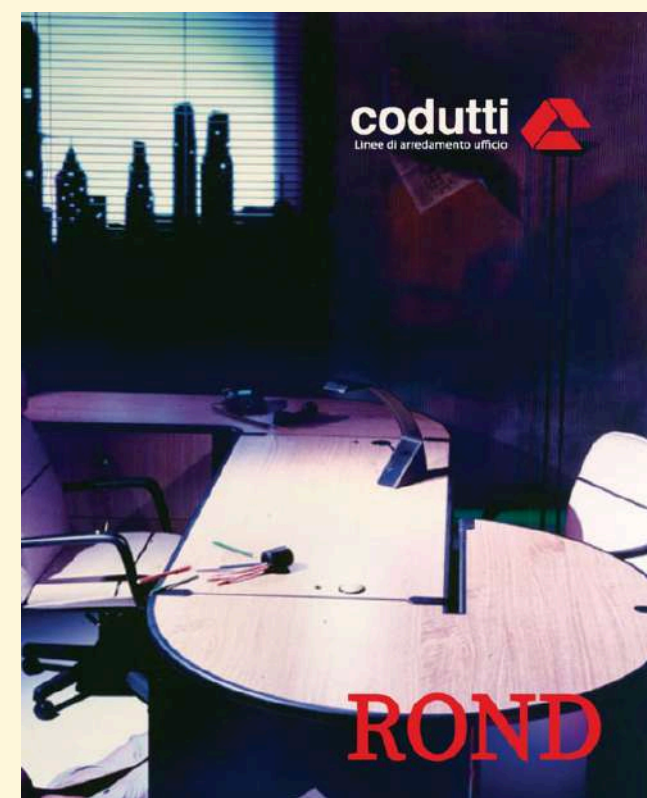

On August 1st, 1954, three brothers founded Fratelli Codutti, turning their vision into reality through creativity and determination.

1960

Codutti began furnishing major ships like the Raffaello and Michelangelo with technology, creativity, and custom futuristic designs.

1970

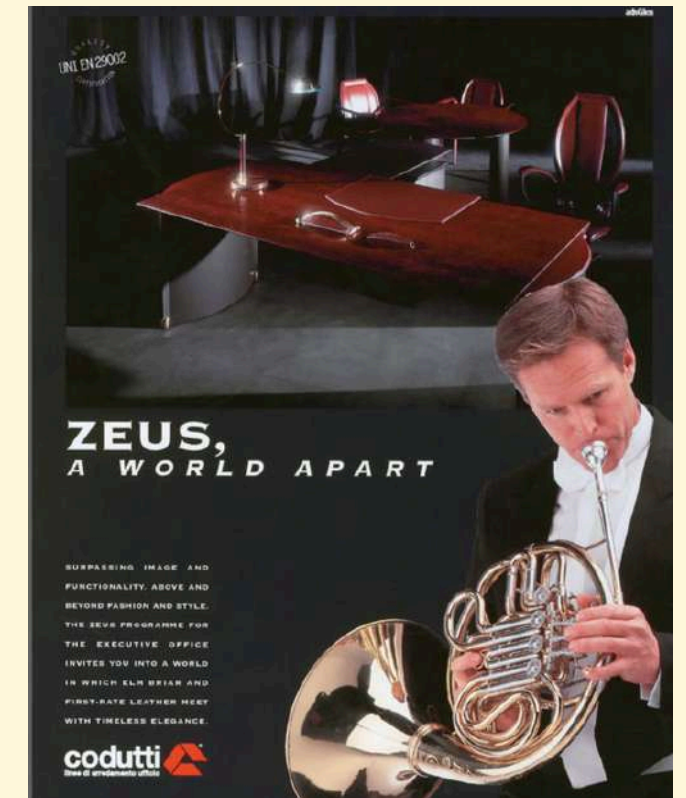

Codutti shifted to office design with the Rond collection, featuring polyurethane edges and caps.

1980

In the 1980s, Fratelli Codutti became Codutti S.p.A., marking a shift to a joint-stock company and a new style direction.

1990

The Zeus collection and one of Italy's first company websites gave Codutti global visibility through innovation and early web promotion.

1999

In 1999, Codutti's Zeus collection appeared in a scene from Star Wars: Episode I.

2010

Codutti embraced a userdriven approach to style and expression, leading to the creation of AlfaOmega.

2014

To celebrate the company's 60th anniversary, the iSixty collection is launched, which represents the essence of the Upper Level in the world.

2024

For 70 years, Codutti has been shaping and reshaping the concept of the workspace, establishing itself globally as a benchmark brand in office furnishing.

2026

A new brand identity that brings together design, usability, and sustainability to unlock human potential.

CONTEMPORARY VISION

To be the international benchmark for Made-in-Italy luxury executive furniture, where craftsmanship and innovation coexist.

CRAFTED MISSION

To transform every office into a high-end space, uniting functionality and impeccable aesthetics in furniture built to last.

CONTRACT VALUES

Uncompromising quality, attention to detail, respect for materials and people, Italian roots.

CODUTTI'S IN-HOUSE PRODUCTION

Codutti's production method guarantees the high quality and prestige of its office furniture by blending advanced technology with artisanal craftsmanship. Wooden and metal components are shaped with CNC machines for precision, while leather details are hand-finished following traditional techniques.

THE CODUTTI METHOD: MORE THAN 70 YEARS OF WORKSPACES

ESSENTIAL

Our Essential Line brings together a meticulously selected collection of seating, coffee tables, and sideboards. Designed to seamlessly integrate into both executive and collaborative spaces, these pieces serve as the perfect finishing touch, combining minimalist forms, structural balance, and premium finishes to complete any architectural layout.

SEATINGS, TABLES, STORAGE UNITS, ACUSTIC SOLUTIONS

OPERATIVE

The Operative Line redefines modern workspaces by balancing functionality with sophisticated aesthetics. Engineered to foster productivity and well-being, these versatile workstations offer smart modular layouts, integrated cable management, and clean minimalist lines, ensuring an inspiring and dynamic environment for day-to-day business.

2BE, TEAM, ATTIVA, ADJUSTABLE DESKS

EXECUTIVE

Our Executive Line is designed for high-profile environments that demand prestige and uncompromising elegance. Characterized by premium materials, refined "quiet luxury" aesthetics, and meticulous attention to detail, these executive desks and directional systems represent the perfect synergy between Italian heritage and contemporary managerial style.
